CITIES ARE LOSERS.

House of Delegates Passes General Appropriation Measure, Carrying A Total of $14,370,105.47.

Richmond, Va., March 7.—The Williams-Holt Rolling Stock bill passed the senate yesterday afternon by a vote of 31 to 6 in the exact form that it passed the House. It directs the division of the rolling stock tax of railroads among cities and counties of the State in proportion to the assessed value of the railroad property.

The bill deprives the home office cities from any participation in the rolling stock tax save the share that will accrue to them as their proportion on the basis of the actual railroad mileage within their corporate limit.

The Senate, by at vote of 29 to 5, passed a bill repealing an act passed by the Legislature of 1912, relating to deeds recorded prior to 1865. Senator Royall and Senater Buchanan ,In favoring the bill, said the law sought to be repealed had the effect of furthering the biggest land fraud in the history of the state.

If passed by the House the new law will dissipate a cloud which has been placed on the titles to property of 1,000 citizens of Buchanan county, who hold under junior grants made by the Commonwealth and by title established through possession and payment of taxes for periods extending as far back as 30 years.

The House passed the general appropriation bill, which carries $7,260,227.36 for 1914-15 and $7,109,878.11 for 1915-16, a total of $14,370,105.47.

CONGRESSMAN HAY PRAISED.

"Jim Hay has been accorded the most remarkable tribute ever given by the House of Representatives to the chairman of any of its committees," was the declaration made here this afternoon by Representative Thomas U. Sisson, of Mississippi, commenting on the record established a few days ago by Representative Hay of the seventh Virginia district in handling two big appropriation bills on the floor of the House.

"The confidence of the entire House in Mr. Hay was so great that in practically two days of parliamentary work he succeeded in having the House pass these two bills appropriating a total of $95,172,000. I don't believe that feat has ever been duplicated in the history of this country. One of the bills was the army appropriation bill, which carried a total of $94,214,000, and the other was the measure appropriating $958,000 for the support and maintenance of the military academy at West Point. I suppose one reason that the House, Democrats and Republicans alike, had such confidence in Hay was that, before he ever allowed the army bill to come out of the Military Affairs Committee, of which he is chairman, he saved the country $10,000,000 by reducing just that much the estimates of the War Department.

"Stop and see if you can remember when any other committee chairman has saved the people of this country $10,000,000 in the handling of one bill. However, this is not the main thing on which I am commenting.

"Hay called up the military appropriation bill Thursday afternoon shortly after one o'clock. Some of his friends, knowing his ability in handling a bill and his thorough parliamentary knowledge, suggested the possibility that he might have the bill passed late Saturday evening. That was where he exceeded all previous records.

"Early Saturday afternoon he had finished the army bill and it had been voted on and passed by the House. Immediately he called up the military academy bill and asked for its consideration. That was when the House paid its real tribute. The members of both sides, Republicans and Democrats, listened to the reading of the bill and voted on it and passed it without asking Mr. Hay a single question and without demanding an explanation of any one of its items or provisions. I have never heard of the House exhibiting such blind confidence in the man in charge of any appropriation bill. It was an unanswerable evidence that Mr. Hay's devotion to duty and thorough knowledge of any subject which he approaches are thoroughly understood by the entire membership of the House."

DRIVEN TO SUICIDE.

Norfolk, Va., March 7.—Jacob Passing, the stranger who was robbed of $1,000, his savings of a lifetime, by two confidence men several days ago, late Thursday fired a bullet in to his temple and is in a dying condition at St. Vincent's Hospital.

Passing declares he was dragged and robbed by two men in a room in a Freemason street boarding house. He says the men promised to engage him to manage a ranch out West.

The loss of the money has so weighed on Passing's mind that he has been almost hysterical for several days The failure of the police to find a single clue that might lead to the arrest of the men who robbed Passing made him despondent The hospital physicians say he cannot recover.

FUTURE OF REBELS HANGS IN BALANCE

CABINET IN SESSION.

Free-for-All Discussion Anticipated When Matter Comes up in The Senate on Monday.

Washington, March 7.—Although the American government intends to suspend any further developments of its Mexican policy until the commission of Mexican constitutionalists investigating the execution of William S. Benton, has made a report, yesterday's cabinet meeting here developed a discussion of the importance of the future attitude of General Carranza toward the United States.

High officials of the administration believe the fortunes of the constitutionalists movement hang largely in the balance, and that only a clear explanation of the Benton incident and satisfactory reparation to those responsible will regain for them the prestige they had acquired as persons desiring the restoration of constitutional government in their country.

Should the Benton case remain unsettled, in the event the cause of the Constitutionalists is triumphant, strong intimations are heard in official circles that Great Britain would refuse to recognize Carranza if he was elected President. Officials also take it for granted that Great Britain might influence other European nations to withold recognition until reparation is made for injury done foreigners.

Administration officials here pointed out that on the Benton case seemed to be dependent the political future of General Carranza. Carranza's point that he need not supply information to the United States about British subjects or other foreigners is not regarded seriously now, as there re assurances from Carranza's friends that this attitude will be modified.

On Monday, Senator Fall, Republican, of New Mexico, proposes to make public a mass of information regarding the Mexican situation, particularly the treatment of American citizens. Senator Shively plans to reply, defending the administration's attitude. Other Senators plan to open up the flood gates if there is to be a free-for-all discussion, which so many times has been threatened in the Senate and as often suppressed.

It is said that an effort might be made to go into executive session when the Mexican issue comes up, but a roll call may be demanded, and some senators asserted that would mean an open session.

Secretary Bryan has received a note from General Carranza, signed by Senator Fabela, Acting Secretary of Foreign Affairs in the Constitutionalist Cabinet, assuring the American government that the mystery surrounding the disappearance of Gustav Bauch would be promptly investigated.

Meanwhile, State Department officials are giving their attention to the reported murder of Clemente Vergara, an American citizen. John Bassett Moore, former counselor of the state Department, who is finishing up some work before finally severing connection with the department, was at work today on the complicated questions of extradition involved.

DELEGATES ENGAGE IN A HEATED CLASH

Messrs. Oliver and Montague Utter Significant Words in House.

INVITED TO COME OUT.

Fairfaxian Resented Richmonder's Suggestion That He "Keep Quiet" And Let the House Vote.

Richmond, Va., March 7.—Undertone remarks made on floor of the House yesterday morning nearly precipitated a fight. Walter Oliver, of Fairfax, was brought to his feet trembling with indignation. Mr. Oliver offered to retire to the lobby with Mr. Montague and settle the matter personally.

The sergeant-at-arms hurried down the aisle to intervene should the issue develop into a fight.

When the Fairfax delegate started to take the floor in the general discussion of the proposed gift to Great Britain of a replica of Houdon's Washington Mr. Montague said:

"Keep quiet! Let's vote! Keep quiet!"

Mr. Oliver plainly showed his indignation, and in expressing his feelings he kept his eyes fixed on Mr. Montague as if speaking directly to him. He said:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege. But first I wish it understood that any remarks I may make on the floor of the House I am perfectly willing to report on the outside so that any gentleman so wishing may take such action as he sees fit.

"Several times recently when I started to speak on the floor of this House the gentleman from Richmond (Mr. Montague) has told me to sit down. Such remarks I resent. They are distasteful to me, for they are not the kind of remarks which should be made by one gentleman to another.

"I wish it distinctly understood that I resent such discourtesies. No man has the right to tell me I must not speak on this floor. No man has the right to say when I shall and shall not to speak so long, of course, as I am in order, and yet Mr. Montague takes it upon himself to tell me to keep quiet. Such remark was discourteous. I resent it. If any further explanation of my attitude is desired I am ready to make it on the outside."

Mr. Montague, replying to the Fairfax delegate, said that he had intended no discourtesy by his 'undertone" remark.

"The gentleman from Fairfax knew or should have known that I did not mean to offend him.

"I consider his statement more discourteous that he said my remark was: I am also offended, and I wish to make it plain to the gentleman from Fairfax that, though I have considered him one of my best friends in this House, I do not appreciate the remarks he has made.

"As far as continuing the argument on the outside is concerned, I am always ready to accommodate any one desiring it."

At this point a page gave Mr. Oliver a card of some one who wished to speak to him in the lobby. The Fairfax delegate left his seat and repaired to the lobby.

WITHDREW MOTION.

In the Circuit Court today Col. Francis L. Smith, attorney for the Southern Railway, withdrew his motion that the verdict of $1,500 given Entichy Foresuch from the Southern Railway by a jury on Thursday be set aside. A motion was entered affirming the verdict.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The funeral of Margaret Kell, the two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Kell, was held this afternoon from the residence of the parents on City Road. Services were conducted by the Rev. William J. Morton, rector of Christ Church, and interment was in St. Paul's cemetery.

On account of the absence of a quorum the meeting of the trustees of the Alexandria Hospital scheduled for last night to consider the raising of funds for the new building was postponed until next week.

In the Police Court this morning Clarence Posey and John Humphries, were each fined $5 for fighting and Hall Paterson $5 for an assault on Will Blanging.

STORM NOT ON TIME.

Old Boreas Did Not Open on This Section Last Night, as Anticipated.

The pronostication of the Baltimore Weather Bureau, published in yesterday's Gazette to the effect that conditions preceding the heavy blow of last Sunday night and Monday were identical with those before that disturbance, caused some uneasiness last night among those whose ears were not entirely clear of the roar of the elements during the early part of this week. The snow which began to fly Thursday kept on with gentle zephyrs from the northeast and Lunar at times attempted to show her face.

The wind during the night moved around to the south, from which quarter it has kept today.

During the forenoon the sun shone brightly, and the temperature being mild, the snow melted rapidly.

PROF. HOUSTON DEAD.

Prof. Edwin James Houston, who was born in Alexandria, July 9th, 1847, died at his home in Philadelphia on March 1st. His intimate association with the development of electric arc lighting, made his name familiar to every one even casually interested in electoral affairs. Professor Houston filled a large number of important positions during his life time. He was president of the American Institute of Electoral Engineers in 1893, 1894 and 1895.

YOUNG MAN EXECUTED.

Killed And Robbed Storekeeper in in North Carolina.

Raleigh, N. C., March 7.—R. W. Cobb, a young white man from Halifax county, paid the death penalty in the electric hair in the State's prison here yesterday forenoon for the murder of Thomas Shaw, a country merchant, of Halifax county, last May. Governor Craig has granted two reprieves, the first in order that counsel might have time to prepare a petition for the Supreme Court to rehear the appeal, and the other in order that Cobb might have time to prepare for death, the court having refused the petition.

Cobb hid in the porch of Shaw's residence and waited for him to come from the store nearby with the cash receipts for the day. He ordered Shaw to put up his hands, and the latter, thinking it was some young fellow playing a prank, ordered him to quit his foolishness, and advanced upon him. Cobb shot, wounding his victim fatally. Then he jumped a fence and escaped on a bicycle that was traced to where Cobb delivered it to a man named Taylor, from whom he had borrowed it. There was evidence that Cobb had boasted to a pal that he would commit the robbery and get away on a bicycle that a bloodhound could not trail. A bloodhound did trail him to the bicycle, the track of which was clear to where he delivered it to its owner.

BILL TO REPEAL TOLL EXEMPTION

House Committee Votes 13 to 3 to Make Favorable Report.

WILL PRESS MATTER.

Chairman of Committee Authorized to Urge Special Rule to Hasten Action on The Bill.

Washington, March 7.—Members of the House and Senate, who will aid in the tolls repeal fight, have announced they took a poll of Congress, and that a large majority in both houses was ready to vote for a flat repeal measure immediately.

Initial steps to repeal the toll exemption clause of the Panama Canal act, as requested by President Wilson, were taken in Congress yesterday, when the House Committee on Interstate Commerce reported favorably a bill to strike out the provision. In the Senate the committee on Interoceanic Canals decided to meet next week to consider the appeal of the President for a revisal of policy in the controversy which involves the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, and, in the opinion of the President, the general foreign relations policy of the administration.

While the House is debating the issue next week, the Senate committee will consider what course to pursue whether to recommend a flat repeal bill or to urge the compromise bill offered by Senator Chilton, of West Virginia, a member of the committee which would authorize the President to regulate tolls and assess charges at his discretion, wherever exemption is provided in the canal act.

In the House there was a quick response to the President's address, the committee voting 13 to 3 to favorably report the Sims repeal bill. Absent members who were recorded made the vote 17 to 4.

Chairman Adamson had ready a draft of the report when the committee met. It based approval of the Sims bill on the same two broad grounds set forth in the President's message—general international comity and the immediate foreign situation confronting the country.

LEAF OF LOCAL HISTORY UPHOLDS THE RAILWAY

"History has preserved the exploit of the French general, Pichegru, who, in the winter of 1797, led a brigade of cavalry across the ice against the allied fleet, frozen helpless in the waters of the Texel on the coast of Holland; but only family papers and local tradition preserve the memory of a somewhat similar deed of daring in our own Revolutionary War. That was the capture and burning of two British ships at Alexandria by a squadron of cavalry, made up of Virginia patriots home on furlough from Valley Forge during the winter of 1777-78.

"At that time Alexandria was the principal port of Northern Virginia, for the deep water at its wharves permitted any seagoing vessel of that day to lie up alongside. In February, 1778, two English ships, under convoy of a man-o'-war, sailed into the port and tied up at the wharf at the foot of King street. They wanted to buy, beg or steal tobacco, the supply of which the war in Virginia had much diminished.

"Scattered at their country homes within a short gallop of Alexandria were some three hundred troopers. Washington had personally enlisted these men for the Continental Army on account of their skilful horsemanship. They had come back to Northern Virginia from Valley Forge that Washington might have fewer men and animals to feed in his winter quarters.

"These young men soon heard of the arrival of the enemy's ships. Eager for action, they planned an attack upon the vessels, as they lay at the wharf, under the guns of the man-of-war that lay out in the stream.

"Fortune played into their hands, for an investigation showed that broad gangplanks ran from the decks of the ships, at a gentle slope down to the wharf.

"Quietly assembling on the outskirts of the town one dark night, the squadron divided into two parties, one under the leadership of Captain Alexander, and the other under command of Lieutenant Smoot. The men made their way by side streets and lanes to the wharf. Every one on board the two vessels was sound asleep except the sentinels, who drowsily paced the decks.

"With a yell, the two squadrons galloped down the wharf and before the astonished sentinels had time to fire they swept up the gangplanks, cut down those who did not fire, and imprisoned the crew and officers below.

"A hurried parley, in which the American raiders informed their prisoners that they intended to set fire to the ships immediately, led to a surrender at discretion. Officers, guard and crew were swiftly and silently taken ashore, and the first intimation that the crew of the man-of-war had that all was not well was the smoke and flame that arose from the burning vessels as they drifted out into the river.

"The troopers were asked later why they did not dismount and attack on foot. "We're so used to hunting and fighting on horseback that it never occurred to us to fight any other way," they replied. We wouldn't have felt safe, anyhow!"

Washington and Old Dominion Sustained by Interstate Commerce Commission

Passenger rates on the Washington and Old Dominion Railway Company were declared not to be unjust or unreasonable, in a decision handed down yesterday by the Interstate Commerce Commission in the case of S. T. J. Price and other residents of Alexandria and Fairfax counties, in Virginia, complaining against charges made on the Company's Great Falls division.

The commission stated that the last readjustment of fares on the railway was in effect an increase, but added that "We are of the opinion that defendant has justified the increase."

The commission suggested to the railway company that certain changes be made in the rates for family commution books or tickets, and the 46-trip monthly commutation fares. No change was directed or suggested by the commission concerning the matter of transfers.

If the company carries out the suggestions of the commission the reductions in 46-trip commutation rates will range from 47 cents to $1.77. The commission suggested that family commutation tickets good for three months and containing 26 round-trip tickets should be sold for all points between Harrison and Vanderwerken, inclusive to Cherrydale, for $1.

Wilton J. Lambert appeared before the commission for the Washington and Old Dominion Railway Company; J. B. Dalsh and J. R. Hoover for the complainants, and R. Ross Perry, Jr., and G. T. Dunlop for the Capitol Traction Company, one of the defendants.

The Alexandria County Service Association in a letter to the Public Utilities Commission yesterday called attention to the fact that care on the lines of the Washington-Virginia Railway, Mount Vernon and Fairfax branches, running in Washington from Twelfth street and Pennsylvania Avenue to the Highway Bridge, are not conforming with the law and that they do not carry any display sign showing their destination.

The association also petitions the commission that the cars of the Washington-Virginia Railway, Falls Church and Alexandria branches, running in Washington from Twelfth St., and Pennsylvania Avenue to the Highway Bridge, be required to stop in front of the new Bureau of Engraving and Printing building, and at all intersecting streets in Fourteent street southwest from B street to Maryland Avenue.

NEWS OF THE OLD DOMINION

CANNON ASKED TO QUIT FLOOR.

On House Rule, Raised by Judge Gregory, Cannon Had to Leave.

Richmond, Va., March 7.—Dr. Jas. Cannon Sup. of the Anti-Saloon League, of Virginia, was asked to leave the floor of the House of Delegates Thursday afternoon.

The Anti-Saloon League officer was standing under the gallery when Speaker Cox directed the house sergeant-at-arms to clear the House "of those not entitled to the floor."

Judge Gregory said:

"Yes, I asked the speaker to enforce the rule. Dr. Cannon was in the chamber of the House. He is not a member of the House, nor is he an officer. There was another minister with him. I don't know who the other preacher was. They were moving about under the gallery.

"I at once—as soon as I saw Dr. Cannon—asked the Speaker if the House were not working under a rule which excludes the presence of unprivileged visitors. The speaker said 'Yes.' I asked him to enforce the rule. The sergeant-at-arms cleared the floor, causing Dr. Cannon to leave. He did not come back. I haven't seen him since."

WANTS UNIFORMITY.

Auditor Moore Tells Revenue Commissioners Books Will be Closely Scrutinized.

Richmond, Va., March 7.—Detailed instructions for the 1914 assessment of property in Virginia were sent yesterday by State Auditor C. Lee Moore to the commissioners of revenue of all the counties. The sixteen page circular is full of information for the proper assessment of real and personal property, and contains a firm warning of grand jury investigations in counties where the returns are not found to be proportionate with those of other counties.

"The assessments of personal property and incomes by commissioners in 1913 show much more efficient and thorough wohk than those in previous years," says Mr. More in the circular. "A few of the commissioners have not been active and energetic in the discharge of their duties respecting the assessment of personal property and incomes, but I trust those, stimulated by the action and efforts of a large majority of commissioners, will this year do their work more efficiently, and I believe they will.

"Of course the courts should, and I believe will, in every county and city of the State, see that the mandatory laws requiring grand jury investigations are informed. It is confidently expected that the taxpayers will, in view of the action of this Legislature, fully discharge and report for taxation their money, so that when the grand juries examine the books containing the assessments there will be few, if any, corrections or prosecutions to be had.

"The constitution and laws require assessed values to be uniform; heretofore they have not been so assessed, varying materially in different districts of the same county without reason.

"Proper assessment against every taxpayer will produce very largely increased values, resulting in materially reducing rates of levies; possibly a reduction in the rate of State taxation."

Special instructions on the application of the new State tax on money were sent by Mr. Moore to the commissioners of revenue several weeks ago.

THE LATE W. G. CONRAD.

Montana Capitalist And Politician Expires at Winchester.

Winchester, March 7.—William G. Conrad, of Helena, Mont., died at his winter home, near Winchester, Va., yesterday, after a brief illness. He was 66 years old.

Mr. Conrad was the opponent of former Senator William A. Clark, a few years ago for the United States Senate from Montana, and was beaten after a long and historic deadlock by one vote. He was spoken of prominently for vice presidential nominee with Bryan in 1908. He had served in the Montana State Senate.

Mr. Conrad owned large properties in Helena and Great Falls, and was reputed to be worth $25,000,000. It was said he owned land in every county in Montana, and he was interested in railroad building, banks and mines.

Born in Warren county, Va., August 3, 1848, Mr. Conrad served during the civil war and in 1868 went West. Settling near Fort Benton, Mont., he developed extensive interests in the new country. A Montana town bears his name.

GRIEF CAUSES DEATH.

Rev. Hugh Davis Ragland Expires While His New Church is Being Built.

Richmond, Va., March 7.—Grief, caused by the death of his wife, is supposed to have hastened the end of the Rev. Hugh Davis Ragland, who passed away Thursday in his home at Sandy Hook, Goochland county. He had been in ill-health since last July, when his wife was buried.

Within the last year he organized the Sandy Hook Baptist church, which is now in process of construction. He had been engaged in ministerial work ever since the war between the states. He occupied pulpits in Hanover, Goochland, Rockbridge, Louisa and Botetourt counties.

BOY ATTACKED BY PANTHER.

Dog Diverts Animal From Lad And is Killed.

Bristol, Va.-Tenn., March 7.—While playing at a woodpile within a few yards of his home at the Narrows, in the Holston Mountains, Arthur Potts, Jr., a 13-year-old lad, had a narrow escape from a ferocious panther. With a loud scream the animal bounded out of the woods toward the little boy. A large hound sprang across his path a few feet from the child, and the panther tore the dog literally to pieces, the boy in the meantime escaping to the house. His father ran out with a shotgun, but did not get a close range shot at the panther.

The panther has been seen several times in the past few weeks, and only last week followed two of the Potts children a halfmile on their return from school.

MISLEADING ADVERTISING.

The Virginia Legislature has passed an act making deceptive advertising a misdemeanor. The object of the measure will meet with the approbation of the general public, which is often disappointed in articles which are extravagantly described by those desiring to dispose of the same. The late Robert Bonner, for many years owner and proprietor of the New York Ledger, while suffering from overwork, determined to purchase a country seat for the purpose of securing a retreat from the heat of the city and to recuperate after the exhausting labor incident to his close application to business. He later experienced disappointment, and concluded to get away from the vicinity in which he had located. The following was his advertisement offering the place for sale:

I hereby offer for sale my country residence at West Morrisania, near Melrose Station, where I have lived for the past three summers, but do not think I could live much longer. I have heard that people looking for a place to purchase could never find one where they have chills and fever; they always have it about a mile, a mile and a half, or two miles off, but never right there, at the place that is for sale. Now I offer for sale a curiosity—something rare—the precise, exact spot where the fever and ague is. I will warrant it to be there. Three of my children have it; my gardener has it; my groom has the sure premonitory symptoms; and I have a sufficient inkling of it myself. Any doctor with a large family, who has a specific for fever and ague, would find this a most eligible situation. The neighborhood is full of the disease, and if he could keep it out of his own family it would give him a reputation which would insure his fortune. Besides the fever and ague, the estate consists of a fine double house, with all modern conveniences and improvements, such as hot and cold water, furnace, range, etc., and about two acres of land, with a pretty fair barn, and some good box stalls for good horses. It is really a beautiful place, the grounds are handsomely laid out, and covered with trees and shrubbery of the choicest kind. These trees afford not only a delightful shade, but a nice harbor for mosquitoes. The mosquitoes, thus far, have not been so much affected by the fever and ague as to prevent their biting—in fact it is a good place for mosquitoes. I bought it to please my wife, and shall leave it to please my whole family. Terms, cash. I am afraid any security on it would get the fever and ague and become shaky. Those wishing to purchase will please apply immediately. I want to get away from it as fast as Dexter can carry me.

P. S.—The town authorities have begun to make alterations in the street adjoining, and if they drain the place as well as they do the pockets of the landholders, it may become healthy.

Dexter, referred to in the advertisement, was a famous race horse in his day. Mr. Bonner paid sixty thousand dollars for this specimen of horse flesh.

CLOSING DAYS OF THE LEGISLATURE.

The days of the present General Assembly of Virginia are drawing to a close. Like nearly all which have preceded it, much has been done which will not prove satisfactory to the majority of the people of the Commonwealth, while equally as many matters could have been left alone. Cities, which are compelled to bear the burden of state taxation, have had their revenue seriously diminished by the apportionment of railroad taxation among the counties and a vexatious issue on the chronic liquor question which may deprive the state of half a million dollars in revenue, has been sprung. With these matters staring tax-payers in the face, there is a probability of taxes being increased.

The already ponderous state code has had its bulk further increased by the enactment of many new laws some savoring of the trivial. From present appearance, it seems that this production will eventually assume the proportions of an unabridged encyclopedia, the contents of which will be sealed to the great majority as was William the Conqueror's Doomsday Book.

Incidents during the past few days show that the session is not destined to close without scenes which are to be regretted. Delegate Oliver, of Fairfax, and Delegate Montague, of Richmond, caused some sensation in the House yesterday by the language used towards each other.

Another incident which attracted general attention was the delivery of an invitation to Dr. Cannon, advocate of state-wide prohibition, to leave the floor of the House of Delegates.

Scenes such as that between the Fairfax and Richmond Delegates bring to mind a long history of state legislation. Such incidents have been few and far between in recent years, although they were common before and for some time after the close of the civil war. From 1879 to 1883, when the readjuster party was in power, such heated colloquies were common, and sometimes serious results were barely adverted.

The clash between Messrs. Oliver and Montague will, it is hoped, end in a perfect understanding between the two Virginia gentleman. We prefer to believe neither intended to be offensive, and that the hot words uttered at the moment will be revised in due time.

BALTIMORE CONFERENCE.

Southern Methodist Will Meet at St. Paul's March 24.

Baltimore, Md., March 7.—The one hundred and thirtieth session of the Baltimore annual conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church South will open in St. Paul's Church West Fayette street, near Carrollton avenue, on the evening of March 24.

Representing 610 congregations with a membership of 61,409 persons in Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia, the delegates to the conference will number about 200 preachers and laymen and the deliberations of the conference will affect directly the affairs of those churches.

The presiding elder will be Bishop Alpheus W. Wilson of this city, the senior bishop of his church and a member of the Baltimore Conference. It has been several years since he presided over his home conference. Last year Bishop John C. Kilgo, of North Carolina, was the presiding officer, and the two preceding years Bishops W.B.Murrah and E. E. Hoss presided.

Bishop Collins Denny, of Richmond, Va., will be at the conference as an assistant to Bishop Wilson, as the presiding officer is 80 years old, though fully able yet to hold a conference in hand.

SHERIFF WILL AVENGE WIFE.

Will Apply Lash on Brutal Husband at Long-Idle Whipping Post.

Frederick, Md., March 7.—The wrongs of an abused wife will be avenged when Sheriff Conrad applies the lash to the bare back of Otho Spencer, a bulky negro, in the Frederick county jail, one of the few instances here of resort to the whipping post.

Spencer was sentenced by Justice Fabian Posey to receive ten lashes and to undergo 30 day's imprisonment in jail, when he decided the negro was guilty on a charge of beating and injuring Mrs. Spencer. The sheriff decided to inflict the punishment himself and will justly lay on a rawhide whip.

Look for the TRIANGLE

It is the trademark of the latest model of the Perfection Smokeless Oil Heater.

It is the sign of the greatest improvements ever made in oil heating devices.

PERFECTION SMOKELESS OIL HEATER

The Perfection Heater, as now made, gives more heat, holds more oil, is better made and works better than any other heater on the market.

It has a wide, shallow oil font, which allows the oil to pass readily up the wick and insures reliable, unchanging flame and heat, whether the font is full or nearly empty.

The Perfection is smokeless, because the patent locking flame-spreader prevents the wick being turned up high enough to smoke. It is easy to re-wick, because the carrier and wick are combined—just turn out the old and slip in the new.

Indicator tells how much oil is in the font. Filler plug is pushed in like a cork—no screw, no thread to wear. Attractive latticed window frame.

The Perfection Heater is finished in vitreous turquoise-blue enamel or plain steel drums; looks well, lasts well, easy to carry wherever wanted.

We Promise You Relief from All Stomach Troubles Or Your Money Back

We honestly believe we have the best remedy in the world for indigestion and dyspepsia. We urge you to try it at our risk. If it doesn't relieve you—as we feel sure it will—we'll give back your money without a word. You know us—your family druggist. You know we wouldn't dare recommend anything we didn't know about, nor dare to break a promise. Therefore, when we recommend any remedy it is because we believe it to be better than any other to relieve the ailment for which it is made, and when we prove our faith in it and our sincerity toward you by promising to give back your money if it doesn't relieve you and in every way satisfy you, you have no possible excuse for doubt or hesitation.

Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets

are, we honestly believe, the best remedy made for Indigestion, Dyspepsia and all other Stomach Ills

We Know They're Good

Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets, in addition to other ingredients, contain Pepsin and Bismuth, two great digestive aids used by the entire medical profession. They soothe the inflamed stomach, check the heartburn and distress, stimulate a healthy secretion of the gastric juice, aid in rapid and comfortable digestion of the food and help to quickly convert it into rich red blood, and thereby into flesh, bone and muscle. They relieve stomach distress promptly, and, used regularly for a short time, tend to restore the stomach to a comfortable, easy-acting, healthy state. They aid greatly to promote regular bowel action.

Delays Are Dangerous

Don't neglect indigestion, for it frequently leads to all sorts of ills and complications. The pain and discomfort is not the most unfortunate part. The fact that when the stomach is not acting right, the material needed to repair the wastes that are constantly taking place in the body is not being given to the blood either in the proper condition or fast enough is far more serious. Nothing will cause more trouble than an unhealthy stomach. The blues, debility, lack of strength and energy, constipation, biliousness, headaches and scores of other serious ailments result from the failure of the stomach to properly do its work.

You Risk No Money

Our willingness to have you use Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets entirely at our risk proves our faith in them. We always sell them this way, and it is because we know that they have greatly benefited scores of sufferers to whom we have sold them. There's no red tape about our guarantee. It means just what it says. We'll ask you no questions. You needn't sign anything. Your word is enough for us. We know that when they help you you will consider it money well spent even if they had cost you ten times as much. If they don't help you, the money you paid for them is yours, and we want you to have it.

Sold only at the more than 7,000 Rexall Stores—the World's Greatest Drug Stores. In convenient boxes—three sizes: 25c, 50c, $1.00

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

Baseball Practice Begins—Literary Society Meets Tonight.

Baseball practice at the High School began on March the 4th, marking the wind-up of the basketball season. Outdoor work was soon cut short by the fall of snow and sleet, and practice was continued in the Armory. Material for a good team reported at the first practice, and the High School has good reason to feel that they will make a good showing this year on the diamond. The absence of several of last year's best players, who have graduated, makes it necessary for as many boys as possible to try for the team. The baseball candidates met Wednesday afternoon before practicing.

Two encouraging rehearsals were given in the Westminister Building on the play "Every Student" during the week. The players in the "Princess" were also rehearsed. The actors were rehearsed there so as to become accustomed to the stage on which thy are to play. Work on the plays is moving rapidly.

The regular meeting of the A. H. S. Literary Society will be held tonight in the school building. All members are requested to be present. The subject for debate is "Resolved, that the U. S. should recognize the Huerta government." The affirmative will be upheld by Jack Reardon and Waller Barrett, while the negative stand will be taken by Tuppr Barrett and Otis Sunderlin. All the boys of the society will declaim a selection from Julius Caesar.

The amount cleared on the dinner given by the Girls' Athletic Association in the Young People's Building February 23rd, was $29.76. The money was divided evenly between the Boys' and Girls' Athletic Associations. Thanks is again expressed to the merchants of the city who contributed donations, and to the people whose services helped to make the dinner turn out so successfully.

Th High School pupils regret that the name of F. B. Howard and Bro. was left out of the list of merchants contributing donations to the High School dinner on the 23rd. The list was published in the Gazette last Saturday.

The Girls' Athletic Association met Wednesday and Friday afternoons. Only routine business was transacted.

There was a mistake made in the publication of the game between the High School and St. Johns' basketball team of Washington. The score was published backwards: 20 to 12 in favor of St. Johns'. It should have been 20 to 12 in favor of the A. H. S.

The first year have been devoting some of their time during the week in the English classes to declaining. Several very good declamations have been rendered. This is excellent practice for those in the first year belonging to the Literary Society, while it also benefits those not belonging.

The Boys' Athletic Association met Wednesday afternoon. Important business was attended to.

There was a history test in the second year Tuesday. They will have their regular six weeks' tests in Latin and Botany next week on Tuesday and Thursday, respectively.

FREE OF PRIEST-HUSBAND.

Wealthy Waiter's Daughter Divorced and May Re-Wed.

Trenton, March 7.—The final decree of divorce in the suit of Mrs. Katherine Frances Consolazio, of this city, against her priest husband, Alphonse M. Consolazio, was signed by Chancellor Walker Friday, ending the case that attracted country-wide attention. While Father Consolazio was in charge of a small church near Princeton he met the beautiful Miss Johann, the daughter of a hotel waiter, who is said to be wealthy.

The priest paid much attention to the girl and there was a sensation when they eloped and were married in Atlantic City. It was not long before the priest disappeared and he is now said to be in a Monastery in Italy. The divorce suit was soon instituted.

George W. Vanderbilt died in Washington yesterday afternoon. His death was due to a blood clot which clogged the arteries of the heart. The deceased was the youngest son of the late William H. Vanderbilt.

HAMILTON THE ANARCHIST.

Graduate of the University of Virginia Ally of Tannenbaum.

New York, March 7.—The red flag of anarchy is admittedly the ensign under which John Strong Hamilton, of the I. W. W., is waging his conflict against the forces of law and order, church and state, in the city of New York, and while the natty Austrian, Frank Tannenbaum, is being held by the grand jury for leading his riotous followers into St. Alphonsus Church it is the scholarly, but tatterdemalion Hamilton, graduate of the University of Virginia, with the philosophy of Huxley on his ready lips, who plots the social Armageddon for which Alexander Berkman and Emma Goldman have long contended.

As the acting head of the New York branch of the I. W. W., while Tannebaum remains in the power of the police, Hamilton is the presiding genius who sits in the dingy back room on West street and weaves his sinister web.

It was in 1893 that he was graduated from the University of Virginia with the degree of bachelor of science.

ELOPERS ARE ARRESTED.

Married Man of Hagerstown and Young Girl Held in Roanoke.

Hagerstown, Md., March 7.—James H. Welker, aged 30, trolley motorman of Hagerstown, who eloped January 20 with 17-year-old Ethel E. Leatherman, daughter of John Leatherman, a farmer of Myersville, leaving a wife and three children, were arrested in Roanoke, yesterday afternoon.

Chief of Police E. R. Moore wired State's Attorney Scott M. Wolfinger here that the couple would be held for the Hagerstown authorities. Sheriff King left today to bring the runaways home. No charge has been preferred against Miss Leatherman, but Welker was indicted here by the February grand jury for deserting his wife and children.

It is not known whether the federal authorities will ask for Welker on the charge of white slavery, but it is thought he will be tried on the desertion charge.

Miss Leatherman's father came to Hagerstown and informed State's Attorney Wolfinger that his daughter had just withdrawn from the Myersville Savings Bank $60, which was on deposit there in her name, through the National City Bank of Roanoke.

State's Attorney Wolfinger immediately wired the Roanoke authorities to arrest the couple, stating that the bank there probably could inform them of the couple's whereabouts.
